Road Death Toll Breaks '55 Record

Holiday Mishaps Exceed Estimate Of Safety Council

By The Associated Press

Traffic fatalities	370
Drownings	127
Miscellaneous	88
Total	585

Traffic fatalities across the nation during the extended Memorial Day holiday climbed to 370, breaking the record toll for the same three-day holiday in 1955.

Late reports were expected to boost the Associated Press tabulation to an even higher total. The count of dead in accidents attributed to holiday observances covered the 72-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday to midnight Sunday.

In addition to the 370 killed in traffic, drownings accounted for 127 deaths and 88 died from miscellaneous accidents, an over-all total of 585.

Exceeded Estimates
The traffic toll exceeded the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 350.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said "disappointment over the size of the toll is all the more bitter because of the steady decline in traffic deaths for more than a year and special efforts of traffic officials to hold down the holiday toll."

The heavy toll was termed by council officials as proof that "impatience, intemperance and indifference bring death on the highways, especially on holidays."

The traffic toll compared with 294 reported during the 72-hour nonholiday period from 6 p. m. Thursday, May 15, to midnight Sunday, May 18. The count was made in an Associated Press survey for comparative purposes. It also showed 83 drownings and 71 deaths from miscellaneous accidents, an over-all total of 448.

413 Killed Last Year
In last year's four-day Memorial Day period, 413 persons were killed in highway accidents, which was a record for a four-day Memorial Day holiday. The over-all total of 660, including 134 drownings and 113 deaths in miscellaneous accidents, also was a record for the Memorial Day four-day period.

The low mark in traffic deaths for a three-day Memorial Day holiday period since World War II was 204 in 1948.

Israel Police Shoot Arabs

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli police fired today on a group of Arabs near the Hadassah Hospital compound in the Mt. Scopus demilitarized zone, Jordan said. One Jordanian was killed and two others injured.

One report said the Arabs were trying to go to Jerusalem and were attacked by five Israeli guards from the hospital.

It was in the Hadassah Hospital area that Lt. Col. George Flint of Canada, the chief U.N. mediator between Jordan and Israel, was killed May 26 while trying to arrange a cease-fire in an Israeli-Jordanian gunfight.

Tax Methods, School Aid Iowa's Major Vote Issues

DES MOINES (AP)—Tax methods and school aid were the major issues as Iowans voted in a primary election today.

Republicans and Democrats were selecting their choices to run next fall for governor, eight congressional seats and other state offices. Neither of Iowa's two Republican U. S. senators has to run for re-election this year.

Heavy balloting, spurred by an unusually large state of congressional candidates, was forecast. Political observers watched the election to determine whether the Democrats can hold their gains of 1956, when they elected a governor for the first time in 20 years.

Speed-up Set For Congress On Final Lap

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress starts paying the piper this week for its slow pace during the first five months of this session.

If it's to meet the early August adjournment target set by its leaders, it will have to shift into high gear as it returns from a long Memorial Day weekend. Leaders have mapped out a five-day-a-week work schedule which rules out any extended recesses in June and July, except for the Fourth of July weekend.

This week the House faces a program that its own leaders concede may not be met. It calls for action on pay raises for federal employees, legislation to create a space agency, appropriations for the Defense Department, extension of the reciprocal trade program, and continuation of present corporate income and excise tax rates.

Little trouble is likely over the 30-billion-dollar defense money bill and a bill to continue for another year corporate and excise tax rates due to drop July 1. But it may take several days to dispose of legislation to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for five years beyond June 30. Protectionist forces in the House are expected to fight to cut down the extension period and limit the added tariff-cutting powers the legislation would give the President.

The Senate has acted on only one of the major bills on this week's House docket. That is the measure to raise the pay of federal employees.

Soviet Again Under Attack By Yugo Reds

BELGRADE (UPI)—The Yugoslav Communist Party has issued another sweeping denunciation of Soviet politics.

The party paper "Borba" printed a 4,000-word editorial yesterday charging the Soviet Union had "broken the spirit" of a 1955 declaration in which the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia had vowed to remain united.

The declaration was signed while Soviet Communist Party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev, who now is also premier, was visiting Belgrade.

The friendly spirit which existed after that cooled off considerably earlier this year when Russia started criticizing Yugoslavia's brand of Communism. Then last week, the Soviets canceled $285,000,000 worth of credits to Yugoslavia.

Borba said this showed Russia's true attitude toward Yugoslavia.

The postponement of the credits clearly shows they had been granted to Yugoslavia with the strong belief that she would accept the stands imposed on her," Borba said.

Rebels Irked By deGaulle New Cabinet

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Signs of sharp disappointment with the newly invested government of Gen. Charles de Gaulle increased in this insurgent capital today.

From the streets of Algiers to the back offices of Government House, people were talking and acting almost as if they had been double-crossed.

After 20 days of pressure applied mainly through mass street demonstrations throughout the country, the insurgents reached their declared goal: A Paris government headed by de Gaulle.

But, instead of the expected house cleaning in Paris, de Gaulle reached back into the roundly condemned "rule of parties" for the stalwarts of his new Cabinet.

"The same old political hacks," said one disgruntled European settler here.

A particularly bitter pill was the cabinet post given to the outgoing premier, Pierre Pflimlin. His effigy has been dragged through the streets of Algiers on a rope.

Knots of people in cafes expressed bewilderment as to why the Gaullist deputy, Jacques Soustelle, was left off the de Gaulle list. The former governor general of Algeria has given political backbone to the insurgent movement since he fled Paris to come here in support of the rebellion.

The insurgent radio continued to broadcast coded messages which in the past three weeks have been directed supposedly at secret agents in Metropolitan France.

Eisenhower, Dulles Confer On Policies

Reply To Red Leader Slated During Talks

Ready To Support deGaulle Regime, White House Says

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles scheduled a major foreign policy conference today to discuss relations with the De Gaulle government in France and map a new reply to the Soviet Union on nuclear test talks.

A White House statement Sunday night called for "intimate and friendly relations" with France under the premiership of Gen. de Gaulle. But officials said privately that "everything depends now on how far De Gaulle is willing to go in Allied cooperation."

Soviet Agrees To Talks
On the nuclear test issue, the President received a letter from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Saturday agreeing to open talks among scientific experts of the United States, the Soviet Union and other countries later this month.

Khrushchev raised several points, concerning place and membership, which required a top presidential response.

The scientific experts will try to work out mutually agreeable means for detecting any violations once an agreement to halt testing is ratified.

There is no such agreement now, although the Soviet Union announced earlier this year that it was stopping tests and the United States and Britain have been considering a moratorium.

The President in a letter to Khrushchev May 24 suggested that both sides send scientific experts to Geneva in three weeks to work out the detection system. He proposed including British, French and probably other scientists along with three top-flight American physicists.

Khrushchev replied Saturday that he was agreeable to the proposed starting time. According to official informants, he also raised the question of including Polish and Czech scientists and possibly having men also from neutral countries such as India. He called for a final report in about a month—rather than two months—on the opening date of the technical sessions.

May Start This Month
U. S. officials said the Khrushchev proposition seemed to raise no difficult barriers to getting the talks under way in middle or late June. Khrushchev did say he (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Figaro Reports Ike Will Invite deGaulle To U. S.

PARIS (AP) — The newspaper Figaro said today President Eisenhower plans to invite French Premier Charles de Gaulle to take part in the talks he will have next week with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

The paper's Washington correspondent said the object of the talks would be to coordinate American, British and French policy in view of the possibility of negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Macmillan is coming to the United States late this week to speak at De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind., and to talk in Washington with Eisenhower next Monday and Tuesday.

Auto Workers Lack Pact, Reuther Fails

DETROIT (AP)—The car makers and the United Auto Workers held an angry wake today over their dead contracts.

Deadlocked bargaining talks with the union were broken off at midnight at Ford and Chrysler just as they were three nights ago at General Motors. The companies and the union blamed each other for the unprecedented situation.

For the first time in more than 17 years UAW members are working at the Big Three without contracts.

Half a million UAW members employed by the Big Three are under stern orders from their chief, Walter P. Reuther, not to strike nor provoke any incidents that could give the companies an excuse to shut down.

Reuther failed in last-hour attempts to win concessions from Ford and Chrysler before their contracts died at midnight. He made the same maneuvers that failed at GM Thursday night. But the companies flatly rejected his moves for any kind of temporary extensions of contracts.

All stood firm on proposals to extend 1955 contracts for two years, giving auto workers built-in annual wage increases of 7 cents per hour plus cost of living increases. This would amount to at least 16 cents spread over two years.

After the breakup at Ford, Reuther told newsmen, "We will ultimately get the companies to sit down and bargain with us the way they should. We will get a 1958 contract, whether it takes two weeks, four weeks or eight weeks...Time is on our side."

The companies didn't say how they planned to keep Reuther from stalling until model change-over time would give him a more favorable opportunity to strike.

Gets Power Sought For His Regime

Will Govern By Decree 6 Months, Going To Algeria

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly today voted 322-232 to grant Premier de Gaulle sweeping powers to govern by decree for six months.

The measure was sent immediately to the French Senate where de Gaulle supporters hope to ram it through today and clear the way for the new premier's trip to Algeria to restore government authority over the rebellious territory.

The vote was almost identical with the 329-224 vote by which the Assembly invested de Gaulle hardly 24 hours earlier.

Demanding Free Hand
The Assembly voted the tall, grim-faced wartime resistance leader into office by a 329-224 vote Sunday night after he insisted he be given a free hand to run France for the next six months.

The general made his sweeping demands in a cold, calm six-minute speech to the hushed chamber. He needed the powers, he said, to avert a "breakup and perhaps civil war" in France.

De Gaulle said he was demanding three major things of the Assembly:

1. Emergency powers to rule by decree for six months to clear up the current crisis. Parliament would take a vacation in the interim.

2. Authority to revise the constitution to give a stronger executive, based on the American system, rather than the parade of weak regimes which have been at the mercy of the Assembly.

3. Constitutional reform to reorganize the relation between France and her overseas territories.

Both constitutional reforms would be submitted directly to the people for approval, rather than to the Assembly first. De Gaulle did not spell out the constitutional changes he plans, saying this would be done in a bill to be submitted soon.

The Assembly committee approved the request for six months of full power 27-17 after an all-night session during which Vice Premiers Guy Mollet and Pierre Pflimlin pleaded that the general must be given a chance to push ahead with plans to revitalize France.

Follows Bitter Debate
The committee vote followed bitter debate in the Assembly and Communist rioting against de Gaulle in the streets of the capital.

Another committee voted to extend special power measures which de Gaulle's predecessors have had for dealing with the 34-year-old Algerian rebellion.

Besides Socialist Mollet and Popular Republican (Catholic) Pflimlin, de Gaulle's demands were pressed by conservative Louis Jacquinot and Felix Houphouët-Boigny of the Rally of African People.

They were called to testify before the committee in a 3 a. m. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Girl, 11, Found In Rugged Area Reported 'Good'

RAINY RIVER, Ont. (AP) — Carol Johnson, 11, who lived on grass and weeds during a week of wandering in dense bush near her farm home, was reported in good condition today.

Searchers found her fast asleep beside a fallen tree Saturday five miles from home.

Asked why she wandered away, Carol replied, "I was just going out to find Daddy's cattle."

She spent several freezing nights in the bush clad in a cotton blouse and jumper and told and there are no plans now for her mother she carried her shoes and a bottle of water.

Lawyer Hired By Trujillo Clears Him In Kidnap Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A report of a Dominican strong-financed by Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo have accused the Trujillo regime of kidnapping and possibly slaying Galindez. The republic's officials have repeatedly denied this charge.

The report, prepared by lawyer Morris Ernst, implied that day, came to this major conclusion: "No accusation connecting Galindez with the disappearance of his officials with the disappearance of Galindez is supported by any evidence; and this covers more than all theories."

On the night of March 12, 1956, Galindez taught a regular class at Columbia and then was driven by one of his students to a subway stop.

deGaulle Is Master Of Suspense

Like Veteran Prima Donna, His Timing Is Perfect

PARIS (AP)—With the suspenseful timing of a veteran prima donna, Gen. Charles de Gaulle for 18 years has kept Frenchmen watching him.

His stage has been the battlefield, exile in England, the Champs Elysees crowded with his countrymen celebrating the end of World War II, the National Assembly and his solitary country home near Metz.

The tall, stern general has long been a master of timing and suspense. His recent news conference, when he declared he was ready to "assume the powers of the republic," was a good example. He announced the conference long enough in advance to allow an enormous sense of expectation to build up. When he finally spoke, all France and the world listened attentively.

The 67-year-old general, born in Lille Nov. 22, 1890, has been posing dramatic and decisive solutions to France's problems almost since he was graduated from St. Cyr military academy. He has been alternately inspiring and vexing to his associates.

As early as 1928, when France's military leaders were planning for the kind of wars fought in the past, de Gaulle proposed motorized columns and tanks that could strike sudden blows at an enemy. French leaders did not listen, but the Germans did. Their lightning attacks in World War II proved it. de Gaulle had been right.

When German forces assembled on France's border in 1939, de Gaulle urged that France keep the initiative by attacking first. His own subsequent performance won him a battlefield promotion.

At 50, he the Caribbean dictatorship in the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez.

When France collapsed, de Gaulle wasted no time in pro-claiming a "Free France" to fight Galindez, who vanished more than two years ago, might still be alive. Ernst suggested that the mystery might be related to Galindez's disappearance and the more than all theories.

Galindez, a Spanish exile, was at Columbia University lecturer by one of his students to a subway stop.

Saudi Arabia Poses New Problem In Middle East

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan, AP foreign news analyst, is making one of his periodic visits to the Middle East. This time he has been one of the few American reporters in recent years to get into Saudi Arabia.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
JEDDAH, Saudi Arabia (AP)—A burgeoning social revolution has plunged Saudi Arabia into a deep political and financial crisis. It has an important bearing on the future of Middle East politics.

The pattern of the monarchy is already changing. But the emerging leaders, once captivated by notions of pan-Arab nationalism, are casting speculative glances northward. The violent events in Lebanon could worsen their money troubles at any moment.

The lavish waste of money by this country's innumerable royal princes has finally caught up with the rulers of the backward desert kingdom.

And now that the rulers are struggling—with some promise of success—to stave off financial chaos, events in Lebanon are threatening the outlet of the oil pipeline at Sidon. If that should be shut off, there would be sharp repercussions here.

Crown Prince Faisal, astute brother of King Saud, suddenly has taken a strong grip on the reins. For all practical purposes he seems to be governing Saudi Arabia.

Once considered pro-Nasser and bitterly anti-American, Faisal has made a noticeable shift in his attitude toward Arab politics. Deeply involved in straightening out the financial mess here, he has climbed on the political fence.

The Saudi situation has been so critical, there has been a total ban on the entry of foreign journalists—even Arab correspondents.

I had a valid visa issued before the ban and entered with no trouble.

The country obviously is going to need help, and in this immense, cruel land of blazing sand and baffling Bedouins may lie America's last big chance in the Middle East.

Either Saudi Arabia becomes a bastion of U. S. friendship in this dangerously disturbed area, or it will be caught up in violent tides of an unreasoning, self-destrating anti-Westernism fed by fear, frustration and resentment.

Intelligent American initiative still can wean this infant revolution from its appetite for Nasser's brand of violent pan-Arabism. Saudi Arabia's restless "Young Turks" are ready to listen.

would like the meeting held in Moscow, but pending a further study of this point officials here thought the President probably would stick to his proposal of Geneva as a neutral meeting place.

A clue to De Gaulle's intentions may come from his handling of the American proposal to include French scientists in the test-decussion studies, and his attitude toward Western summit negotiations with the Soviet Union already under way in Moscow.

The White House statement Sunday night struck a friendly note throughout.

"We have been witnessing with sympathy and understanding," it said, "the difficult days through which France has been passing and we are gratified that the French crisis is now being resolved."

"Gen. de Gaulle has assumed heavy responsibilities at a critical juncture in French history. Our thoughts go out to the great French nation, wishing it well in the tasks ahead."

"We look forward to the continuation of the intimate and friendly relations which have always characterized our long association with France."

summons after the body had elected a man hostile to the proposal as its chief.

Communists and some Socialists on the committee—which represented all hues of opinion—voted against De Gaulle's demands.

The bitter debate earlier in the Assembly and in the committee made plain that De Gaulle will have no honeymoon with the opposition.

Sporadic outbreaks of leftist-led violence also were seen as an omen of trouble ahead.

In Algeria, where right-wing French colonists and army officers seized power May 13 and touched off the crisis, a wary calm prevailed.

Members of the ruling junta who had been shouting "De Gaulle to power" quickly proclaimed the general's installation as a victory for their forces. Privately, however, they were disturbed by his inclusion of such men as Pflimlin and Mollet in his Cabinet.

Falling Tree Limb Strikes Group At Zoo

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nine members of a family, including five young children, were pinned to the ground by a falling tree limb at the Washington Zoo Sunday.

The children's father, Edward L. Boswell, 58, was knocked unconscious and was admitted to a hospital for observation of a neck injury. The others, escaped with scratches and bruises.

Police said the 30-foot tree limb, 12 inches in diameter at its base, apparently was broken by a gust of wind. They reported no sign of defect in the tree.

Except for Boswell, a produce manager in a grocery store, the family was caught by the smaller, leafed section of the branch.

In addition to Boswell, they were his mother, Mrs. Suzie L. Boswell, 58, and Mrs. Mary Ennick, 43, a relative who lives with her in Washington; his wife, Mary, 29; and their five children: twin daughters, Terry and Jerry, 10; Mary Lee, 7; Bonnie, 5; and Edward Jr., 4.

Mrs. Ennick said that as Boswell struggled to get to his feet he fell back on the bank of Rock Creek and might have rolled into the stream but for the presence of two policemen in plain clothes and a friend of one.

"We were looking at the wolves and discussing whether they would eat peanuts when we heard this loud, cracking noise," Mrs. Ennick said.

"I looked up and saw this huge limb coming toward us. We started to run but I grabbed three of the kids: Ed and Mary grabbed the other two and we all just dropped to the ground."

With the aid of the other allies, the general built a fighting force of half a million men. Shunting rivals aside, he proclaimed that he personally represented France and would have to be dealt with as an equal among allies.

Britain and the United States supported him, but not without some annoyance.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote in a letter after the Allies' Casablanca conference, "The day (de Gaulle) arrived he thought he was Joan of Arc and the following day he insisted he was Georges Clemenceau."

De Gaulle got what he wanted; he kept France in the front rank of the world powers.

De Gaulle became provisional president of France as the war was ending and fought for a constitution that would provide strong executive leadership. When he lost, he dramatically bowed out of the political picture.

deGaulle Facing Monumental Project In Effort To Solve French Dilemma

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this moment the self-assured Charles de Gaulle's head is high and his stride strong. Nevertheless, he is like a man walking barefooted through a field of broken bottles.

The French air cleared momentarily when he became premier Sunday.

But what may seem to De Gaulle today to be direct and simple solutions for the ills of France may before he's through turn into tortured dilemmas both for him and for his country.

French acceptance of him, on his terms, was a desperate compromise to avoid civil war. He was rammed down the country's throat by a rebellious army. Thus he had to be taken on faith. In a hurry, both as to intention and as to judgment.

Although his announced purpose is to preserve the republic—and all he's done has been to cloak it in legality—he nevertheless has blessed the military chieftains who forced him upon France.

Yet something like this—emergency of a strongman—seemed inevitable. If not De Gaulle, eventually it would have been someone else or the army. French government—or its parliamentary system—had become a farce and a disgrace.

The all-powerful Assembly, split into factions with each concerned about its own interests, proved incapable of running the country. So De Gaulle's first aim is to reform the government this way:

Through a constitutional change to make it more like the American system by making the executive branch stronger, the Assembly weaker, thus achieving a greater balance of power. This is one announced intention.

Another is to reach a satisfactory settlement in Algeria, where Moslem nationalists have fought the French army for years to obtain independence. But this is what the French who live in Algeria don't want.

To get things done De Gaulle, who despises politics and political horse-trading, must deal in one way or another with French politicians.

Atom Damage Suit Filed By British Man

LONDON (UPI) — Percy Dunn of St. Anne's, a 40-year-old atomic energy worker, has filed the first private atomic damage suit against the British government and Atomic Energy Authority.

Dunn, married and the father of a 13-year-old girl, said he suffered radioactive injury while working in the Springfield atomic station at Salford in 1953.

He claims it has practically ruined the vision of his right eye.

Eleven Killed Over Holiday In Maryland

Two-Year-Old Fatally Injured In Auto Mishap

By The Associated Press

A two-year-old Washington girl was fatally injured early today in a traffic accident on U.S. 301 three miles north of Waldorf in Charles County.

Ten other persons were killed in accidents in Maryland during the three-day holiday weekend, with six of them listed as traffic fatalities.

Three persons drowned during the long weekend and one man was fatally injured when run over by his own car.

In the Charles County accident, Michel Denise Plater, Negro, was killed when the car in which she was riding went out of control, skidded sideways on the center grass plot and struck some bridge guard railings.

She was dead on arrival at D.C. General Hospital, Washington, at 3:30 a.m. Five others in the car, all members of the same family, were injured in the accident and taken to the same hospital.

Other highway fatalities during the weekend included William J. Bell, 52, of Hyattsville, who was killed late last night in a two-car collision on U.S. 222 near Port Deposit.

Officials at Harford Memorial Hospital at Havre de Grace, where Bell was taken, said four members of his family were injured in the Cecil County crash.

The highway death toll soared early yesterday when four persons were killed, two of them in the same accident near Washington.

Police identified the two as Edward Franklin Brown and Samuel Tyndie, both of Washington. They were killed in a two-car collision at District Heights, Prince Georges County. Both were passengers in the same car.

John Thomas Hart, 30, of Severna Park, died in Anne Arundel General Hospital, Annapolis, early yesterday after his car left Maryland 178 and turned over near Crownsville.

The fourth traffic death yesterday was Martha Benson, 69, Negro, of Baltimore, who was struck and killed by a car as she walked across a Baltimore street.

The official record of holiday deaths was recorded from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday night. Other victims were:

Louis Mercer, 50, of Newark, N.J., killed in Baltimore Saturday when his parked car suddenly moved forward, knocked him down and ran over him, after he had slammed the engine hood.

Dr. Francis Takauki Enomoto, 32, drowned in the Potomac River Friday when he fell from a motorboat about 10 miles south of Washington. He had been studying at the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md.

Robert L. Mangum, 19, of Clinton, Md., drowned while swimming in the Patuxent River near Charlotte Hall, St. Mary's County.

William Carpenter, 15, of Baltimore, drowned while swimming in a water-filled quarry at Lansdown, Baltimore County.

Ray Bradford Faulkner, 48, of Easton, fatally injured after his car failed to make a curve on Miles River Neck road.

Lawrence Drege, 20, of Baltimore, died yesterday of injuries he received in a collision last Thursday in Southeast Baltimore.

Three persons were injured Saturday near Salisbury in a three-

FIRST CLASH — Political experts are looking to the California primary tomorrow for an indication of the comparative voting strength of gubernatorial candidates Sen. William F. Knowland and Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. If the election goes as expected, Knowland, right, will capture the GOP nomination; Brown, left, will win the Democratic nod and the two men will clash in a runoff on Nov. 4. Both men filed on both the Republican and Democratic ballots, which is legal in California. Much of the campaign centered around the right-to-work issue. Knowland favors the issue; Brown is opposed.

Burns Prove Fatal To Boy In Baltimore

Willie Alstone, 12, Touched Power Line With 13,000 Volts

BALTIMORE (AP) — Willie Alstone, 12-year-old Negro ward of the Department of Welfare, died today from burns he received from touching a 13,000-volt railroad power line.

Alston had been in critical condition at Lutheran Hospital with second and third degree burns above his waist.

Police said the boy was playing on top of a string of standing freight cars on a Pennsylvania Railroad storage track under the Edmondson Ave. bridge in West Baltimore last Saturday. He touched the line that powers the electrified locomotives.

The railroad had to shut off that section of the power line, before firemen were able to remove the boy from the charred catwalk of the freight car where he had fallen after the shock.

Only two days before that, on Thursday, another boy fell from the Calvert Street bridge to the top of a standing freight car and was badly burned after brushing the overhead power lines. Both of his legs will be amputated.

LOCATED — Carol Johnson, 11, lost seven days in rain-soaked woods near Rainy River, Ont., was found alive, and not a bit afraid. She stayed alive by eating grass and weeds.

Police Grab Escapee, 16, In Stolen Car

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy who police said had escaped from a psychiatric building of D. C. General Hospital in Washington was arrested yesterday in a stolen car near here.

Montgomery County Police picked up the boy as he was changing a tire just north of Rockville on Route 28. He boasted of going 90 miles an hour when the tire blew, police said. They reported finding a .32 automatic in the glove compartment, which the boy said he stole from another car.

The car the boy was driving, police said, had been stolen earlier in the day in Washington.

The youth was charged with housebreaking and auto theft in April and had been sent to D. C. General Hospital when he threatened to hang himself in the receiving home. He was returned to the home today after his arrest.

College Commencements Keep Eisenhower Busy

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower today makes the first of his three appearances at college commencement exercises in the state.

The Chief Executive was to speak briefly and receive an honorary degree at Mount St. Mary's 150th annual graduation exercise at Emmitsburg. Eisenhower was to pass out diplomas to the seniors at the second oldest Catholic college in the nation.

Commencements will also be held at nine other colleges and universities around the state in the next nine days.

In addition to Mount St. Mary's, three other institutions handed out sheepskins to the graduates today. They were Morgan State, Salisbury Teachers and Western Maryland.

Eisenhower is scheduled to deliver the commencement address at the Naval Academy Wednesday. That program will mark the climactic moment for the 899 midshipmen completing four years at the academy.

The President's third appearance will be at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore a week from Tuesday. He will join British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, the main speaker, for graduation exercises at the university where his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, is president.

Macmillan and Eisenhower will be awarded honorary degrees.

Other commencements to be held in the next few days are at Frostburg Teachers on Friday, the University of Maryland at College Park on Saturday, and Towson Teachers and Hood College at Frederick next Sunday.

The local officers left at 6:30 this morning for the graduation program.

Former Gov. Charles Edison of New Jersey owns a factory in Sag Harbor, Long Island, which manufactures electrical coils.

State Police From LaVale To Guard Ike

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale Barracks of the State Police, will head six members of the local detachment to the commencement exercises at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, today as part of the security detail.

President Eisenhower will deliver the graduation address at the 150th annual exercises of the nation's second oldest Catholic college and Lt. O'Hara will be in charge of coordinating the security detail for the Chief Executive's visit.

Attending the program with Lt. O'Hara will be Tfc. D. A. Tucker, Tfc. Donald R. Wade, and Troopers C. W. Lewis, Kenneth W. Messmer and Charles T. Snow.

A detachment of State Police from the Frederick barracks will be in charge of the traffic detail under the command of Lt. W. K. May, while Capt. C. W. Magaha, commander of the State Police company, will be in charge of the entire detail which will work in close cooperation with Secret Service agents with the President.

The local officers left at 6:30 this morning for the graduation program.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Better Service Now?

PRESIDENT Eisenhower, having somewhat reluctantly signed the postage increase bill, come Aug. 1 we will all start paying more for using the mails. The votes by which Congress adopted its postal rate and pay rise bill made it just about veto-proof. The measure can bring in an estimated additional 547 million dollars in postal revenues. That is a good deal better than nothing, but it is still far short of solving the Post Office Department's chronic financial difficulties. The department has a present annual deficit of around 700 million, which is threatening to rise to 1 billion dollars. The new bill is not all clear gain, since it provides for postal workers' pay rises in the neighborhood of 265 million dollars a year. Thus the deficit gap continues wide.

IT IS UNDERSTANDABLE that President Eisenhower wanted higher rate increases to defray more of the department's expenses and pave the way for really drastic modernization of services. Many of these improvements now seem out of the question. But insofar as the department's shortcomings relate to its personnel, perhaps a morale-building pay boost will have a helpful effect on efficiency. Certainly the deterioration of the postal services in the last decade or so has reached alarming proportions. Plagued by inadequate techniques, poorly trained mail handlers and huge increases in postal volume, the department really makes no pretense of offering good mail service in many categories and places.

TO THOSE WHO use it regularly, air mail special delivery service between the country's major cities has become a hollow joke. The service was more reliable 20 years ago, when slow, twin-engine planes carried the mail. Today it's a two-hour flight from New York to Cleveland, but air specials sometimes take more than 48 hours door to door. Service from London and Paris is more trustworthy, and often quicker. With the population growing steadily and with it the volume of mail, obviously the problems of the Post Office Department are not going to get any easier. What Congress has done this session is only a start toward rehabilitating a vital service which ought to be operated with high efficiency. But the measure has this merit: It shows that the lawmakers can act on the problem. And what they did once they may do again.

IT'S TOO BAD we can't store away a little of the imagination children use in their play, and give it back to them to apply to their lives about 30 years later.

Silly Criticism

MOST OF THE RECENT reports from traveling editors, senators and others are to the effect that the overwhelming majority of our Foreign Service people are earnest, able, hard-working and often wholly dedicated individuals. One recent notable exception was Vice President Nixon's complaint that our diplomats in South America were tossing too many cocktail parties. But he seemed to beaming this shaft more at the top level than the rank and file. Another popped up in a House hearing, where a little fuss was made over the fact that we maintain a foreign language school at Nice, France, a sunny, beautiful spot thought to be too distracting for our Foreign Service students. That wine is the standard drink there also caused some headshaking. Just how silly can you get? There isn't any place in France where wine isn't standard, and almost no place that eager, alert members of the diplomatic corps would not find either pleasant or fascinating. What would the complainants have these people do? Study by lantern in some Alpine cave and drink bottled water?

AN ACQUAINTANCE who recently tapered off smoking is tapering back on—and this time the taper is considerably shorter.

PEOPLE WHO make a mess of their lives find living it up much easier than cleaning it up.

Demos Till Ground For 1960 Harvest

WASHINGTON — Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin feels that in recent fence-mending he picked up the best clue as to how Democrats should handle President Eisenhower in the campaign about to begin.

Proxmire is in a hard fight for a full term after brief service here. He was elected last August to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Joseph R. McCarthy.

Visiting among the farmers who unfortunately for him seem somewhat less dissatisfied than they were last summer, he ran across one who promised support. But the same farmer said he was still friendly to the President.

"I voted for him in 1952 and 1956," the farmer said. "I guess I'd vote for him again if he could run in 1960. He's a fine man and a good man but, my God, isn't he a lousy President?"

THE PROXMIRE conclusion is that Democrats should treat the President personally with reserve but can safely take off the gloves with respect to the conduct of the Presidency, the Eisenhower policies, the White House staff and the Cabinet.

Also spreading rapidly across country is former Secretary of State Dean Acheson's thrust at General Alfred M. Gruenther, Eisenhower's intimate and president of the American Red Cross.

"You ought to go over to the State Department and take care of things there," Acheson told Gruenther. The general instantly remonstrated that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was doing a fine job and that Acheson, of all men, should appreciate the difficulties at State.

"Oh, I didn't mean you should replace Dulles," Acheson explained. "But isn't the Red Cross supposed to rush into disaster areas?"

Such jests receive wide circulation and, like taxi drivers, are a generally accepted barometer of the public mood. They gain circulation with incredible rapidity; they did so, indeed, even before mass communications were so vastly improved.

IT WAS A farmer in Massachusetts who said to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge in the spring of 1946 that the then President Truman was "acting like a cow on glare ice." Truman lost control of Congress that fall but in the months following regained a sure footing and went on to his memorable triumph over Thomas E. Dewey and all the alleged prophets.

It may be that the President and Secretary Dulles can likewise reverse the trend which seems daily more pronounced against them. The headlines do not so indicate.

Nor is the President making any real effort at greater rapport with the politicians of his own party. He still sees only their leaders and then chiefly at stated intervals; his appointment schedules and his social calendar do not contain their names.

THIS situation is aggravated by the fact that House Republicans believe their veteran leader, Representative Joe Martin of Massachusetts, is losing his steam while GOP Senators note that their minority chief, Senator William F. Knowland, is often preoccupied with his campaign for Governor of California.

Complaints are heard with increasing frequency that the views of Republican lawmakers are not presented adequately to the White House.

The feud between Martin and Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who is next in line, is by now an old story. Halleck, who is notably aggressive, has both admirers and enemies among the party and it is still doubtful if he could mount a successful attack on Martin's leadership.

Somebody Always Takes Joy Out Of Life

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—Like everything else these days, this business ain't what it used to be. It used to be that reporters could get through the day with no greater hazard than having to read the texts of a lot of long-winded speeches or handouts.

The merit of this system was that it wasn't necessary to listen to the speeches themselves or listen to some bureaucratic read his statements from the page.

This was a great time saver and it made life nicer.

But not no more. Things have changed.

Instead of texts, they force phonograph records and tape recordings on you, so they do. And you have to listen to the stuff.

A printed text you could fold and stuff in your pocket—till you got to the next wastebasket. Or you could scribble notes on the back. Or you could tear it up and strew it, like rose petals, at the feet of a returning vice president.

You can't fold a phonograph record. Even carrying a seven-inch puts a strain on the coat pockets.

TWO SUCH crises have faced this scribe recently.

The first came from a 10-inch platter handed out by Committee for a National Trade Policy. It recorded 3,000 words of statements in favor of extending reciprocal trade agreements. The voices were those of President Eisenhower, Secretaries Dulles, Benson, Mitchell and Weeks, Adlai Stevenson, Steel Worker Dave MacDonald and V. P. Nixon.

Now this recording can be highly recommended—as something to put you to sleep in the still small hours. Otherwise—

Fortunately, the C for a NTP furnished a printed transcript along with the recording—so you didn't positively have to listen to it. But, lookit, is every reporter going to have to lug a round a pocket hi-fi so he can play back handouts before phoning them in? Will it come to this?

THE SECOND offense was a seven-inch job from American Heritage Foundation and the Advertising Council, Inc.

This recording gave one minute, 30 second and 20 second spot announcements which are to be dinned into your ears this fall in the new "Give, Register and Vote" campaign. The theme is a non-rhyming jingle which goes:

Now is the time for all good men
To come to the aid of their party.
Don't pass the buck—but give a buck
To the party of your choice.
This is the way to keep politics clean
So come to the aid of your party.
Don't pass the buck but give a buck
To the party of your choice.

Of course, you couldn't put this in a printed handout because most reporters can't read music. And you couldn't put it in a speech because most politicians can't sing.

As straight news, a paper might print this jingle once. The paper might editorialize that it will probably take more than a buck to keep politics clean. That's all.

But as a "public service"—even though this is a worthy cause—you're going to have this sung at you until in sheer desperation you give each party a buck just to make them please turn it off.

THE AGE OF sound tracks has arrived, and there's no escaping. Old gaffers brought up on the printed word and born 30 years too soon should go turn in their time.

In the old days, a reporter could go up to a guy and ask, "Senator, what do you think of things?"

He would shift his quid and say, "Terrible." And that would be that.

Now the shove a microphone at him. He doesn't chew any more because that would ruin his recording tonsils. So he makes a speech. It goes on a sound track. And brother, you gotta listen to it both willy and also nilly. If you didn't, you might find out later it was Dinah Shore.

Looking Backward

25 YEARS AGO
June 2, 1933
Friday

MORATORIUM SEEN—President Roosevelt today advised Rep. Hartley (D-N.J.) that he would call for a moratorium on home mortgage foreclosures as soon as the home loan mortgage bill is approved by Congress. The measure has passed the House and is awaiting Senate action.

QUOTA INCREASED—Twenty-four additional forestry workers have been allotted to Allegheny County, bringing this county's quota to 120. Sgt. Clarence Biehn, local Army recruiter who is examining applicants for the Civilian Conservation Corps, said young single men are being accepted as quickly as they are certified by Baltimore headquarters.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC UP—For the first time since the depression set in, freight traffic on the Baltimore and Ohio for the month of May exceeded the comparable month for the previous year. Railroad business has been directly benefited by the revival of the brewing industry and the pronounced recovery of the steel industry.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — General David Sarnoff likes to tell people about the wonders to come and, if you have followed the RCA chief's items across the years, some already are coming true.

Thin TV sets, for example; he forecast several years ago that bulk would go inch by inch until, at least, a 35-inch wide, one-inch thick device would ensue, which you could frame like a picture and hang on the wall. He forecast color TV long before it was more than a tinkering engineer's dream.

Now he says that, in time, we will be able to replace damaged organs of the body with electronic parts. Damaged kidneys, hearts and so on can be taken out and an electronic device installed in the body to do the same work. He did not follow a logical progression of humor and say that if a person became damaged enough he could be turned into a mechanical robot. And he carefully refrained from forecasting replacement of the greatest, most sensitive, most baffling electronic device known: the human brain.

It is known that it operates electrically, gives out electrical waves and is to all intents an electronic device—but it cannot be replaced by a machine.

IT IS NOT TRUE that it costs a lot of money to visit New York. In my spare time I have put together a list of 100 free things to do in New York, and none is dull. No free hotels and not, regularly, free meals. But I know how to get a free glass of beer for you and a free newspaper. Or free milk; if you prefer.

The truth is that New York abounds in gratis entertainment, including appearance on a TV show. I can get you free bread, too.

If you know New York you can live well and entertainingly on little. Even Jerome Weidman describes a facet of it in his forthcoming novel, "The Enemy Camp."

His jobless hero, gnawed and shuddered by hunger, goes out and finds a store where a new kind of cheese is being demonstrated and lives on it for a day. Most of the larger stores are almost daily demonstrating new foods, pastries, desserts and soft drinks.

Maybe Max Is Off His Feed

WASHINGTON — The Senators are through with Max Block, the well-nourished union-butchery chief, and by now he's back in New York, where I doubt he can enjoy the filets mignon in his own restaurant de luxe. He's got worries.

Senator John L. McClellan and Company on the labor rackets committee pried deeply into the private life of the Honorable Max (by his own word, especially honorable labor leader) and discovered that the best, as provided by his two meat cutters' locals, is barely good enough for him.

COMMITTEE counsel Robert Kennedy took up first the several sojourns spent in Miami Beach, Fla., by Max and his Missus. Senatorial arithmetic indicated that it cost this happy pair an average of $165 per day to live under the palm trees.

The soft-voiced Max said he worked hard during these Florida interludes, but that he did manage also to enjoy himself a little.

"At these prices, you must have enjoyed yourself a lot," suggested the counselor.

"No," insisted the boss butcher. "I enjoy it most when I don't have to spend anything."

MAX'S FLORIDA trips cost the union better than $9,000. During the last two years he also received, above his salary, $26,705 in expenses, and the Senators wondered where he spent that. Max couldn't remember.

Then there was $38,507.02 in checks drawn by the union to cash during the last two years with no vouchers to account for any of it. Max said he knew nothing about that.

KENNEDY brought up then the $6,491 charged to the union from Max's home for flowers, cigars, lingerie and photographs.

The lingerie, said the counsel, cost $111.

"Maybe it was a union suit," suggested McClellan.

You can do well for yourself on nothing.

BRIGHT WORDS from Charles H. Brower, president of BBD&O ad agency: "A man who gathereth gold for the Department of Internal Revenue and hath no fun, is a sounding ass and a tinkling idiot." It is, also, Charlie Brower who digs deep into Nietzsche and says that the only thing the German cynic ever said worth remembering was this: "A man of great faith can afford a little skepticism."

The dance critics shredded a provocative Parisian import in ballet called "The Broken Date," a little thing put together on a rainy French Saturday afternoon by Francoise Sagan and a couple of choreographers, but the drama critics, who seem to be more vulnerable to Gallic sex, found it bold, brilliant and brash.

It is all of that, since it includes a scene in which high-jinks are accomplished in the midst of the bathroom plumbing and then repeated in a bedroom in which the young lady ballerina wears not much more than a seraphic smile.

A girl named Noelle Adam dances a seductress in what is politely known as an explicit manner.

She is a sort of half-Kim Novak and half-Brigitte Bardot, with toe slippers. Thus far no Mercedes-Benz gifts from Rafael Trujillo Jr., though.

SPEAKING of being explicit, after June 16 you can buy "The Dangerous America," a suspense novel about a young gangster deportee to Italy and what happens to him there. Part of what happens to him is a broken jaw, but after that the rest is explicitness itself if that is what you are looking for in a book.

This reporter is not going to Mexico this summer, as has been pinpointed before, but the mail requesting definite information about hotels, things to see and do and how to behave is heavier than ever, establishing if nothing else that columns about Mexico have a remembered quotient. If I go anywhere it will be to Puerto Rico, for 10 days. I have a line on an archaeological curiosity rarely ever described before and which may turn out to be a key to a lot of puzzles concerning origins in this sector of the world.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That you could probably do without food 30 days more easily than you could go 100 hours without sleep. So why do modern people insist on shortening their lives by eating too much and sleeping too little?

That when you tell someone he's "all wet," you're more accurate than you think. Roughly two thirds of the total body weight is made up of water.

That Groucho Marx says: "We owe a great deal to our government. The question is: how are we ever going to get the money to pay it?"

That if you've ever wondered about 'snail's speed,' the answer is: the snail's speed has been scientifically clocked at 0.00353005 m.p.m.

THAT THE population of New York City in 1729 was only 8,000, or about a fourth of the number who now work in Rockefeller Center alone.

That hospitable Ireland has the greatest number of hospital beds, percentage-wise, of any country: one for every 67 persons.

That the male stiff collar is said to have been indirectly originated by the first Queen Bess of England. A homely dame, she hid her scrawny neck in a high stiffly starched ruff. Her courtiers, including Sir Walter Raleigh, gallantly followed suit, thus starting the fashion of starched collars for men.

That mother elephants very rarely give birth to twins. And by and large, you can't really blame them.

THAT IF A GIRL tells you "I eat like a bird," don't take her out for dinner until you find out if the bird she has in mind is a baby crow. This little bird can eat its own weight in food in a single day.

That, in opening a fashionable ladies' clothing shop, one human factor you can't overlook is this: women seldom like to walk on the sunny side of a street. As a matter of further fact, isn't it true that after marriage few women like to walk at all?

That three express trains in Germany now have telephones that enable passengers to ring their homes or offices anywhere in Europe. Ocean liners have this service, too. Why don't commercial airplanes have phones you can use in flight?

That in discussing the need for self-discipline, President Franklin D. Roosevelt liked to tell of a humble old Chinese Christian whose favorite prayer was, "Lord, reform Thy world, beginning with me."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—The program had fallen in a plate of salad, but I salvaged it as a pimento of the occasion. Through the goo I was able to read the cast of characters and thus reaffirm the incredible things mine eyes had just beheld. The program stated unequivocally that the mannikin who had romped down the spotlighted runway in drip-dry rompers was indeed Mrs. James Roosevelt.

The program had almost as much dressing on it as the performers. But I wanted to keep it as proof that the drying beauties really included the lawfully-wedded wives of Senator Richard Neuberger, of Oregon, and Rep. Daniel Flood, of Pennsylvania. Also that the cute accordionist with the flashing fingers and legs was actually Rep. Coya ("I Ain't Goin' Home to Papa") Knutson, of Minnesota.

I DON'T SUPPOSE I should have been so astounded because it was a party to raise money for the Democrats, and Democratic women are very quick to come to the aid of the party. But the boisterous affair, which drew 1800 drip-dried-in-the-wool Democrats to the ballroom of the Sheraton-Park Hotel, held me rooted with astonishment.

It wasn't so much that Senator Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, snatched the shirt off Senator Olin Johnston, of South Carolina, without removing the victim's coat—or that Senator Johnston reciprocated with a similar shirt-snatching on Senator Kefauver.

I do not cherish senators who have lost their shirts—and besides, from my cub days of covering Tammany smokers, I know how the trick is done. The thing I marveled at was the length to which distinguished Democrats will go to replenish the party coffers.

If they put on a few more galas like this one—especially if they try to make the gangling Rep. Jimmie Roosevelt with his normal-size missus in matching shorts—the Democrats are going to raise so much money that the Republicans will be reduced to poor relations again. If the GOP hopes to compete in fund-raising it will have to tap the rich—and the rich have an inexplicable aversion to lavishing money and affection upon probable losers.

I sincerely hope this money-raising doesn't get too one-sided because, if there is one thing I don't want to go through again, it is to bleed for the underdog GOP.

But how are solid Republicans, who like to remain clothed and in their right mind, going to compete with the great lover of the Roosevelt family prodding a live burro down the runway because the producer, crazed with imagination, had titled the show, "Two for the Hee-Haw!"

Can you picture another Californian, Senator William F. Knowland, prodding a live elephant down a runway to further his gubernatorial aspirations? Or prancing with GOP matrons in drip-dry bikinis?

FOR SOME REASON that eluded me entirely, most of the torgery in the fashion show part of the extravaganza was described by the narrators—Rep. Charles Brown, of Missouri, and the beautiful wife of Rep. Ross Bass, of Tennessee—as "drip dry."

They kept harping on this, although I thought most of the outfits would look better under water. Apparently it's all the fashion to be drip dry this season. My loved ones are kind enough to say I've made the first part of it.

I wish to disassociate myself from this next entirely, but when Rep. Knutson squeezed into her accordion solo she was almost drowned out by whispered comments band's plea to quit politics and come home.

Obviously, the gentleman has not quite mastered the instrument. When she hit her fifth foul ball I was horrified to hear a voice I recognized as that of my nearest and dearest, crying with radioactive clarity:

"I wonder why her husband wants her back?"

M'Keldin Will Call Session On Idle Pay

Governor Returns From Tour Abroad; Kimble Parley Due

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. McKeldin, back home from a four-week tour of Europe, has indicated he almost certainly will call a special session of the General Assembly to extend unemployment benefits.

The governor said he would discuss the matter early this week with Robert B. Kimble, director of the Department of Employment Security; Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert and leaders of the House and Senate.

He indicated before his departure May 5 that he favored a special session. After his return Saturday, he said he still favors extending unemployment benefits as an anti-recession measure.

But first, he added; he would have to be brought up to date on legislation involved before issuing a call for the extra session.

President Eisenhower is expected to act promptly on a bill enacted by Congress which would permit states to extend by one half the maximum number of weeks jobless workers can draw benefits. In Maryland, this limit would be extended from 26 to 39 weeks.

If the President signs the bill, special legislation would be required in Maryland for the state to take advantage of the federal loan.

McKeldin was nursing a bad cold when he returned to Annapolis, but he was in good spirits.

He declined comment on the reported shortages of funds at the University of Maryland or on the court challenge by slot machine operators of a new Maryland law aimed at banning gambling casinos off the Virginia shore of the Potomac River.

He registered surprise at the outcomes in some of the primary races, but he declined to comment on the Democratic contests beyond a prediction that the Republicans have an "excellent" chance in November.

McKeldin spent most of the four weeks touring bases of the University of Maryland's Overseas Program. He accompanied Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the university, and Dr. Ray Ehrenberger, director of the overseas program.

Fire Damages Coke Plant At Clairton

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An explosion and fire damaged a cleaning tank Sunday at the Clairton by-product coke plant of U. S. Steel Corp. No one was injured.

The blaze was confined to a 100-foot high tank which is used to clean by-product gases taken from the coke ovens. The gases are later piped to U. S. Steel plants in the Pittsburgh area.

Cause of the explosion was not determined immediately.

Florida Resident Tried For Theft

Homer C. Nestor, who gave a Florida address to police, was found guilty of petty larceny Thursday by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

He was told to make restitution of money taken from a pocketbook which was stolen from a local woman on Monday.

Magistrate Dick also gave the man a suspended six-month sentence in the Maryland House of Correction provided he leave Cumberland.

Nannie Jenkins, of 410 Louisiana Avenue, said her pocketbook was taken while she was at a local bowling alley.

Officer Clarence Valentine arrested Nestor as a suspect. Later, the pocketbook was found in an alley in the rear of Baltimore Street. Everything was intact except that $28 cash was missing.

Sen. Butler Strikes Back At Supreme Court Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md) struck back today at the "don't kill the umpire" phrase used by critics of a bill to overcome some recent decisions of the Supreme Court and limit its review powers.

He said in a statement this was a catch phrase coined by opponents "in a frantic endeavor to create public opinion favoring their position."

However, accepting the baseball analogy, Butler said an umpire is governed by the rules and "does not call two strikes an out or three balls a walk."

He said most of the present criticism of the Supreme Court has been prompted by the belief that the court has been making and changing the rules, instead of just interpreting them.

Yet, he said, when Congress takes cognizance of the situation "and seeks to exercise its constitutional responsibility, the bleeding hearts cry 'don't kill the umpire.'"

A minority report of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which has approved the bill by a 10-5 vote, uses the phrase with reference to

Graduates Urged To Be Interested In Politics

MORGANTOWN (Pa.)—President Irvin Stewart today urged members of the 1958 graduating class of West Virginia University to take a more active interest in politics.

In an address prepared for the school's 88th annual commencement exercises, Dr. Stewart told the approximately 1,250 graduates that "if our political system is to function as it should, you must have an active interest in politics." He explained:

"This includes vigorous and effective support of the candidate, office holder or administrator who seeks to do the right thing even when it is unpopular."

"In addition to support at the polls, it includes the type of consideration which will make life easier for him and his family. For some of you, it must extend to a willingness to enter the political arena personally."

"Politics is too important to leave to those who would use it for their own ends. Failure to act in recognition of this fact is more likely to imperil our way of life than any overt act of the Communists."

Dr. Stewart reminded the graduates that they are debtors to society for their education.

"The most effective repayment which you can make for the opportunities extended you," he said, "is the proper use of education you have received."

Carley Ann Rees of Follansbee, who had a straight-A average for four full years of college work, was graduated at the head of the class. She was the first student to accomplish this feat since Richard E. Stewart in 1955. Stewart, son of the university president, studied under a Rhodes Scholarship in England and now is at Harvard.

Miss Rees' string of perfect grades started in the fourth grade of Public school.

U. S. Doctor Aids Soviet Heart Transplant Test

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda reports that an American doctor from Baltimore assisted here Saturday at an experimental operation directed by a Soviet surgeon involving the transplant of a heart from one dog to another.

The Soviet news paper said the American doctor, Edgar F. Berman, then demonstrated to the Soviet surgeon, Dr. V. P. Demikhov, an operation in which he replaced part of a dog's esophagus with a tube of polyethylene.

According to Pravda, Dr. Berman said Dr. Demikhov in his experiments on transplants of organs is creating the medicine of the future.

Pravda said the dog which received the heart transplant retained its own heart and thus had two hearts at the end of the operation. The paper said Berman was shown by Demikhov a dog which similarly has two hearts, one transplanted and the other his own, and has survived the transplant operation more than 10 days.

Pravda said the maximum length of survival so far in the Soviet Union of a dog after such an operation is 32 days. Berman has conducted some similar operations but his dogs have never lived more than six hours after it, Pravda claimed.

The Soviet paper said Berman is here to visit hospitals, research institutes and medical schools in Kiev, Moscow and Leningrad.

Although land was not at a premium, the Mesopotamians and other ancient peoples built new cities on the sites of settlements destroyed by fire, flood or war. Not only was it easy to level a place built of sunbaked bricks; the increasing height of the site added to the city's prestige and defensibility.

'Brightest New Star' Title Given Jack Paar

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—The brightest new star to shine in the TV firmament this past TV season of 1957-58 has been Jack Paar.

Having been a booster of Paar's lightly sardonic and too-often-elusive sense of humor encased in this seemingly casual exterior, it was with considerable satisfaction that we watched him take over a show which even in its early era during Steve Allen's brighter, brisker, less hammy days had never showed NBC a profit.

When Allen aspired to Sunday nights, the "Tonight" hours almost were lost to old movies. And we must say NBC brass gave itself the most masochistic trial by fire ever foisted on the midnight air, in the frazzled shambles called officially "America After Dark."

Jack Paar was handed this hot potato of a show and started off on as clumsy a foot as could be nightmarish.

First Show Failed
His first show simply fell apart. His shows later unlike the every submersible "America After Dark," found their aim, and in a short time started to make news, gather in larger "live" audiences than NBC had been able to lure at the wretched hours, and finally put the show in the profit column at long last.

How did Jack Paar do it? Not by controversy, although it must be admitted Elsa Maxwell's tart and sporty attitude later lured women viewers in droves; and secretly, lots of the men.

But it was in other ways that Jack Paar was to prosper. He racked his memory for people who could talk. "Talk" is his show's major commodity. There are jokes, written by Jack Douglas, a master of the immaterial and the absolutely screwy loose changeup originated by the Marx Brothers.

$450 Awarded In Land Case

A verdict for $450 was returned Thursday afternoon by a jury in Allegany County Circuit Court in favor of James and Lena DeMarini in a land condemnation case. George Pappas of Frostburg served as foreman of the jury. At stake was property located on Montreal Avenue between Ontario and South streets needed by the State Roads Commission for the Industrial Boulevard of the Cumberland Thruway.

The SRC had deposited a check for $320 with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, which it considered a fair value for the property sought. As in all condemnation cases, the jury visited the site in South Cumberland soon after the trial started.

William L. Wilson served as attorney for the SRC and James Alfred Alviret represented the defendants. Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris presided.

State's Tax Revenues Up $5 Million

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland tax revenue was up about five million dollars during the first 10 months of the current fiscal year, from a year earlier.

This was the case despite the fact that revenue dropped in six of the 11 major categories where the state gets its money. Income taxes made the difference, jumping to more than 62% million dollars as compared with about 56% millions.

Figures for the 10-month period ending last April 30 were contained in a report in the State Planning Commission's June news letter.

Fortunately for the State, Marylanders also were drinking as usual and burning up gasoline at a profitable rate. The only gainers outside of the income taxes were motor vehicle fuel taxes, alcoholic beverage taxes, real and personal property taxes and taxes on insurance firms.

There was less revenue from the titling tax on purchases of new and used cars, franchise and corporation taxes, motor vehicle taxes on fees and fines, retail sales and use taxes, horse racing taxes and death taxes.

Airmail In Liner Hit By Jet Saved

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—When a Capital Airlines plane collided with a military jet near Brunswick, Md., 11 days ago, it was carrying 65 pounds of air mail.

The two planes disintegrated in the air, killing 12 persons. But postal inspectors who were on the scene within two hours salvaged about 63 pounds, or 97 per cent, of the air mail load.

An air mail operation report on this air mishap was made available today.

There is a standard Post Office procedure when a mail-carrying plane encounters trouble. At the first confirmed word of mishap, postal inspectors from the nearest field office start for the scene and set up a "mail rescue" operation.

It is their responsibility to salvage every possible piece of mail and get it moving again by the fastest available means.

According to the Post Office Inspection Service, there is nearly always some recovery of mail when a mail carrying plane goes down. Cases of total loss are rare, even when fire follows the crash. This is because the plane's impact with the ground usually scatters mail bags, luggage and other things in the aircraft.

In the case of the May 20 collision near Brunswick, the mail load was mostly ejected in midair. Three of the mail pouches, loaded at Chicago, were found intact near the crash scene. A fourth nine-pound pouch, taken on at Pittsburgh, also was found, but it had been ripped open and letters had to be gathered from the ground where they scattered.

Machine parts, in a parcel post package consigned to a Baltimore plant, were recovered undamaged from under the airliner's fuselage.

When the hunt was finally abandoned, only two pounds of mail remained unaccounted for. On the following day, a farmer living four miles from the scene, and on the other side of a mountain, found five air mail letters postmarked at Pittsburgh. He turned them in.

In airlines crashes looting of wallets, purses and even passenger clothing is not uncommon. But the Post Office says the public is very cooperative in turning in mail found after a crash.

Air mail can be identified as lost only if it is registered, insured or sent C.O.D. Postal officials say there is no feasible way to catalogue the ordinary air mail letter as to specific pouch and flight.

Possibly the biggest mail rescue hunt, from a mileage standpoint, followed the explosion of a United Airlines plane near Longmont, Colo., Nov. 1, 1955. Forty-four persons died.

Postal inspectors suspected dynamite as the cause because the wrappings of boxes were shredded, but not scorched.

A few days later, John Gilbert Graham confessed that he had placed a dynamite bomb in the luggage of his heavily insured mother before she boarded the plane in Denver. Graham was tried, convicted and executed in January 1957.

From the airmail standpoint, this plane explosion offered a real problem. The tremendous blast had ejected much of the mail at high altitude, with ripped pouches thrown into a very high wind.

Much air mail was shredded in that incident. But inspectors, aided by volunteers, recovered more than 300 pounds after a five day hunt over 34-square miles. That mail went forward stamped "delay caused by air mail interruption near Denver, Colo., Nov. 1, 1955."

Car Industry Ponders New Model Moves

Shutdown On '58 Models May Come In Month Of July

By DAVID J. WILKIE

Associated Press Auto Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's 1958 model year will end early in the third quarter. High inventories and lagging sales will bring shutdowns starting in July—perhaps sooner.

But whether new models will appear earlier than usual will depend upon the number of cars dealers have on hand when the shutdowns start.

The suspensions will be extended this year to enable retailers to liquidate outgoing models.

Inventories have been reduced but they still represent nearly double a normal supply. There is no present indication of a sales upturn.

Talk of earlier closings for model changeovers has started speculation of what lies ahead for the 1959 models. Some sources predict a production boom with the start of the new model period.

There is talk of six-day factory operations—overtime in most plants. But some sources say production is not likely to approach capacity levels early in the 1959 model year.

Obviously talk about overtime operations is largely wishful thinking.

An earlier build-out of 1958 models and longer changeover shutdowns may avoid a rash of bargain sales just before the new models are introduced. Complete liquidation of outgoing models before the 1959 cars appear probably is too much to expect, but the industry is trying for it.

June May Give Inflation Trend Preview

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—June will be more than just a month of roses for a lot of Americans.

As summer gets an unofficial headstart on the calendar what are the prospects for jobs, wages, cost of living? What does June hold for business in industrial output, labor relations, price adjustments, inflation outlook?

The jobless total seems sure to rise this month for two reasons:

1. A flock of graduates and students will be out looking for jobs, along with the five million already out of work. The outlook for the youngsters isn't as bright this June as it has been in the last few.
2. Industrial output and factory employment show little sign of changing much. While there could be more steel mill activity as customers seek to beat a possible price rise next month, other lines may be down a little. For example, auto production could taper off still more as dealers' stocks stay high and model changeovers come earlier than usual and take longer.

And throughout industry there may be a tendency to earlier and longer vacations as companies whittle some more on their inventories.

Another disquieting note is that unemployment which started among the production workers is spreading to some white collar employees. A few companies are laying off salaried employees and others are cutting pay checks. Some aren't replacing workers who leave.

Offsetting this is the opening up of many seasonal and outdoor jobs and indications that in spite of the slump this will be a record travel and resort season.

Another cheerful prospect this month is that the cost of living may not rise. The first of the garden truck will help the food budgets, although the costs of services may continue their steady upward crawl.

June could give us a preview of the future course of wages. A showdown in one key industry seems near. The outcome in the auto-labor negotiations has often set the pattern for many other industries.

Steel wages, on the other hand, are going up automatically. And the big question steel executives will decide this month is what to do about prices: Whether to raise them, and if so at what level they're likely to stick.

June, therefore, should offer a strong clue as to whether inflation is being halted or whether it is just catching its second breath.

Another clue to inflation prospects comes this month as the size of the federal deficit and final congressional decision on taxes become clear. Signs now point to a larger deficit than has yet been officially estimated because tax collections are lagging more than expected. The fiscal year ending this month may show the Treasury nearly four billion dollars in the red, with a prospect of 11 billion more in the new one soon to start.

Blossoming in June will be the official statistics on the state of the economy in May. Chances are there will be few changes from the trend appearing in April: A slowdown in some sectors, such as industrial output, a mild pick-up in others, such as consumer spending.

But just ahead is the usual July slump for most industries during the traditional factory vacation periods. And business will be raising the usual cry: Wait until September.

"I shall care for you all my life . . . and all of yours"

In the marriage ceremony, the groom vows to care for his bride as long as they both shall live.

But most husbands today go beyond this pledge. Through life insurance a man can provide for his wife and children longer than he may live.

How much longer? That depends, of course, on the size of the policies in his life insurance program, and on the size of the family, among other things.

Many a husband has a plan that provides an income for his wife as long as she shall live.

Because a life insurance policy is a contract, its wording is cold, legal and formal. But no wife misses the tender message of devotion that lies between the lines.

Fair Turnout Forecast For City Primary

Voters Go To Polls Tomorrow To Choose Eight For Council

Political observers are predicting a 35 to 40 per cent turnout in tomorrow's municipal primary election when Cumberland voters will select eight of 16 candidates for the general election June 17.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said election machinery has been completed by the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors which will handle the election. There are 11,181 eligible to vote.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. This will be the first time voting machines have been used for candidates. The machines were used in the city the first time last summer when a tax limitation increase proposal was defeated.

Campaigns Stepped Up

Candidates stepped up their campaigning today and some were passing out cards and shaking hands with voters along the Main Stem and in other sections of the city.

There will be no contest for Mayor in tomorrow's balloting since only two, incumbent Roy W. Eves and J. Edwin Keech, filed for that post. Their names automatically are placed on the general election ballot.

Incumbents seeking re-election are Commissioners William H. Buchholz, John J. Long and William N. Keegan.

Others in the race are former commissioners George H. Tederick and Mrs. Lucile Roeder, Philmore F. Fleming, Charles H. Hornbrook, Cecil C. Clark, Melvin G. Cline Sr., Keith T. Sisk, Glenn K. Davis, Harry E. Shobe, Lee Marple, G. Ray Light, Lonnie L. Jackson and Harold K. Ritter.

This, according to political observers, "has been one of the 'quietest' city primaries in modern history. But the tempo is expected to pick up after the election officials that they should mark their ballots for only four of the 16 candidates tomorrow. The top eight vote-getters will go into the general election in two weeks.

State Land Case Started In Court Here

Testimony was begun in Allegany County Circuit Court today in a land condemnation case brought by the State Roads Commission against the Allegany Instrument Company for a tract of land in South End needed for the industrial boulevard.

The tract involves 2.66 acres fronting on Blackstone Avenue and extending back to the boulevard route.

Drawings of the tract were placed on a blackboard in the court room and the attorneys and witnesses used it to explain grades and other data concerning the land involved.

D. C. Goodfellow, local real estate broker, testified as to the valuation he placed on the land and how he arrived at his decision. He said he estimated the land is valued at $500 per acre, or a total of $1,366.

It was brought out that the tract had been in a Residential A zone but had been rezoned to an industrial or business area.

Attorney for the SRC was William Walsh while William H. Geppert and Hugh McMullen were attorneys for the Allegany Instrument Company.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris is presiding in the case and a jury is hearing the testimony. The jurors visited the scene before the testimony was begun this morning.

City Accepts $6,188 Bid On Sewer Project

Hour-Long Confab Precedes Action By Council Today

After pro and con discussion which lasted an hour, the Mayor and Council today accepted the bid of Orrie Sensabaugh to construct a sewer on Clement Street.

Cost involved is $6,188.98 and the action today is the climax of moves which began last January in behalf of the sewer project.

The same arguments presented for the work and the same for those against it were heard in their entirety today. Mrs. Arlie M. Williams, 45 Roberts Place, while indicating that she thought those asking should have a sewer, protested the cost for which she would be liable as the result of ownership of six vacant lots. She said cost to her of the sewer would exceed value of the lots.

She said she did not believe the city fair in allowing a resident of the street to tap into a manhole leading to a large interceptor sewer several years ago at a cost of $35 while she would be liable for an expenditure of $700 for owning six lots on which she had no intention of building.

Asking for the sewer was Mrs. Mary Gentry of Valley Road, who through her attorney, Earl M. Manges, said she had gone ahead with building a home on the basis of discussion last January and must have sewer facilities since she is ready to move into the dwelling.

Mrs. Williams also protested a water drainage problem on her lots which she said is the result of city work there.

Not Answer

James Shaw, superintendent of the City Sewer Department, told council that the manhole tapping suggestion is not the answer. He said one more tap could be made but the solution would only be temporary. As the area develops, he said, it would be necessary to construct a sewer.

Also heard in the discussion was Mrs. Joseph Purdham, 303 Columbia Street, who is building on Clement Street, and who said the only city service received there is water; Lee Marple of 234 North Centre Street, who suggested a temporary tap; Charles R. Scarlett and Lester Bolinger of the Engineering Department.

Taken For All

Mayor Roy W. Eves told those concerned that the ordinance had been passed and council must follow through on procedure and vote. He said the action was not being taken for one family or two but for all future property owners on the street.

He said council had to order such sewers all over the city, otherwise the city would be very unsanitary and no one would wish to build.

The vote accepting the bid of Sensabaugh was unanimous.

Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor, dug the first earth with a shovel used by the congregation in 1926 when the present church on Columbia Street was started. Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, Baltimore, president of the Maryland Synod, and Rev. James Fresh, Gallion, Ohio, a minister son of St. Luke's, figured in the ceremonies.

Conditions At Airport After Races Blasted

The operator of Cumberland Municipal Airport said in a report to the Mayor and Council today that "no respect" was shown to keep the airport clean or "protect city property" during the recent sports car races.

Warren R. Mullenax, in a written report filed by council, said when the races were over the airport was "filthy." He said four men have been working daily since the races concluded May 18 and "have not been able to clean up the mess." He said it will require two more weeks to pick up trash, clean the field and hillside.

Mullenax also informed council some hangar roofs were damaged by rocks thrown from the hillside. In addition, cars and large trucks damaged grass, in some spots completely, making a dusty road. The areas will be reseeded in an effort to get the grass to return, he said.

In the area of the concession stand in the center of the field, Mullenax continued that the condition was "disgraceful." He said thousands of bottle caps were scattered or imbedded in the soil along with other rubbish and broken bottles. The bottle caps, he added, destroy blades in the airport mowing machine. One end marker of a runway light was smashed and he said this should be charged to the Lions Club Foundation, sponsor of the races. He also said that cost of preparing the port and the cleaning-up job should be charged to the foundation and not to the airport appropriation.

Cars parked on the hillside blocked the view of spectators and posed a threat in event of a runaway. He said, no parking should be allowed on the hillside and this should be stipulated when the next permit is granted for the races.

Mullenax estimated there were 12,000 to 14,000 cars in the airport area during the races, that order was good and there were no accidents reported. He suggested that the city name a committee for the next races to regulate and protect the airport.

His report concluded with the statement that four men, a tractor and dump truck are employed in the cleanup task which he described as "the worst since racing was first held."

Bids Asked For Armory Project Here

New State Guard Installation To Be At Ridgedale

Bids will be received by the Maryland Department of Public Improvements for a new National Guard Armory in Cumberland until June 19 at 2 p.m.

The new armory will be located in the Ridgedale Addition to the city in the area above Greene Street atop Dingle Hill.

S. Russ Minter is architect for the new, modern structure. He said the building will be built along a hillside and have two levels. The outside dimensions are approximately 140 by 150 feet.

To Be Brick

Provisions have been made for a large drill area which is being laid out to allow for indoor sports as well as military procedure.

General offices, class rooms, lounges, day rooms, locker rooms for several companies of Guardsmen, rifle range, shop section and showers are also included in the plans.

The armory will be constructed of brick and concrete and have steel frame work.

The mechanical engineering for the project is by Egil and Gompf, Inc., and the structural engineering by J. L. Faisant and Associates.

There are no immediate plans for utilizing the present National Guard Armory on South Centre Street but there have been proposals that the city purchase the structure for a civic center and also that some veterans organization buy the property for its headquarters.

Title Guaranteed

Today, Cumberland's Mayor and Council approved an ordinance guaranteeing title of the property site. It also authorized Mayor Roy W. Eves to execute a general warranty deed and indemnification agreement.

The move was requested by the Military Department of Maryland. Property involved includes all of Lots 47, 48 and 49 in the Cumberland Development Company's Ridgedale Addition; and land comprising the former street bed of VanBuren Avenue from its intersection with Tonkaway to the intersection with Euclid; and also a portion of Tonkaway from its intersection with Brown Street to the intersection with Greene Street.

San Francisco Opens Heart To Pacing Giants

Dodger Club Back Home Facing Fans And Voters

By United Press International

San Francisco threw open its heart and its gates to the homecoming, first-place Giants today while the last-place Dodgers found a referendum and that frightful fence again awaiting them in Los Angeles.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli ended the Giants' first Eastern trip on a triumphant note yesterday when he pitched them back into the National League lead with a 7-2 victory over the Cardinals. That gave the Giants a record of 11 wins in 19 games since they left California.

The Dodgers didn't do so well on their trip, winning only eight out of 17, although they beat the Cubs, 1-0, yesterday on rookie Stan Williams' two-hit pitching in his first major league start.

Even so, the Dodgers are still a long way from being out of the woods.

Referendum Tomorrow

Not only are they two games behind the seventh-place Phillies, but they can also find themselves behind the eight ball if the voters of Los Angeles bar them from using Chavez Ravine in a special referendum tomorrow. Along with that, they are returning to the Coliseum and that 250-foot left-field fence, which Don Drysdale and Don Newcombe both claim has wrecked their pitching styles.

In any case, the Dodgers looked like champs yesterday behind the nifty pitching of the 21-year-old Williams. Los Angeles scored the only run of the game off loser Dick Drott in the fourth inning when Carl Furillo doubled and came home on Don Zimmer's single.

Antonelli was supported by an 11-hit attack in his victory over the Cards. Ray Jablonski drove in three runs with a double and a single, and Hank Sauer batted in two more with a pair of singles. Sam Jones, who yielded San Francisco's first five runs, was the loser.

Bob Friend limited the Milwaukee Braves to five hits while leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-1 decision in a game called during the eighth inning because of rain.

Friend Wins Eighth

The Pirates helped Friend to his eighth victory when they rocked Gene Conley for three runs in the first inning on a walk, singles by Dick Groat and Ted Kluszewski and Frank Thomas' triple. The loss dropped the Braves into second place, a full game behind the Giants.

Cincinnati beat Philadelphia, 2-1, in the first of two games and then struggled to an 11-1 tie in the nightcap which was suspended in the ninth inning because of Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law.

Bob Purkey outpitched Jack Sanford for his sixth win in the opener. The only run he allowed was Solly Hemus' homer in the third inning. The Redlegs scored a run off Sanford in the second inning and what proved the winning run in the third on a double by George Crowe and Don Hoak's single.

Play was halted in the ninth inning of the nightcap after the Phils staged an uphill fight to overcome a 10-3 lead the Redlegs took in the sixth on Johnny Temple's inside-the-park homer with the bases full. An error by Temple, however, helped the Phils score the tying run in the eighth. The Redlegs used six pitchers and the Phils five. The game will be resumed at a later date.

Turley, Carey Lead Yanks
The New York Yankees maintained their 6½-game lead in the American League by bouncing the Boston Red Sox, 10-4. Bob Turley struck out 10 batters and allowed only five hits in registering his eighth victory. Andy Carey led the Yanks' 15-hit attack with five hits, including a pair of homers and a double. Reliever Murray Wall was tagged with the loss.

The Kansas City Athletics hammered Cal McLish for five runs in the first inning and went on to defeat the Cleveland Indians, 10-1.

END OF THE LINE—The scholastic athletic careers of two LaSalle High stars ended yesterday with graduation exercises at Carroll Hall. Charles (Chaz) Innes (left) holds the Rappaport Club Award that he won while Van Parsons looks on. A three-sport star, the award is given by the class of 1933 annually to the outstanding student-athlete in the graduating class. Parsons, who also stood out in football, basketball and baseball, received the award as the school's top gridder the past season. Van has been given a football scholarship to the University of Miami. He is a quarterback.

Boyer's Bat Catches Fire For St. Louis

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ken Boyer has gone from a .165 problem hitter to the National League's hottest batter in just two weeks. And the reason is a mystery to the much-analyzed St. Louis Cardinal third baseman.

"I'm batting the same as I always have," Boyer said. "The hits are just dropping in now."

"It's a funny game."

Not Funny To Giants

It wasn't funny to the San Francisco Giants, who watched Boyer's drives "dropping in" the bleachers for three home runs in two days.

A .431 hitter the past two weeks, Boyer blasted a pair of two-run homers to pace the Red Birds to a doubleheader sweep on Memorial Day.

His 12th-inning homer the next day gave the Cardinals a 10-9 victory. The Giants salvaged the fourth game Sunday and held Ken to one hit, but he was 8-for-18 in the series with eight runs batted in.

'I Told You So'

Boyer once was tagged the "reluctant dragon" by former Cardinal General Manager Frank Lane, impatient with Ken's defensive lapses and poor hitting in the first part of last season, after his big 1956 season.

Now his rejuvenation puts General Manager Bing Devine in an I-told-you-so mood. Devine took Boyer off the trading block last November after Lane's departure. Bing classified him as all but untouchable.

In two weeks he has hiked his average 112 points to 277. Manager Fred Hutchinson and his happy teammates are convinced he is still on his way up.

Boyer is now second only to Stan Musial on the club in runs batted in with 23, tied with Stan at eight homers, and leads the team in runs scored (27).

12-Year-Old Gunner Cops Open Honors

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 12-year-old Roselle, Ill., boy won the all-gauge title in the Kentucky Open bluegrass skeet championships Sunday by smashing 230 straight clay targets.

Then he slipped away to a swimming pool while his father, whom he eliminated on the way to the title, accepted congratulations.

Bobby Shuley, a sixth-grader who has been shooting at clay birds for three years, wasn't flustered by his title. But his adult competitors, including some of the nation's top shooters, were astounded.

A tournament official compared the feat with a little leaguer pitching a no-hitter against the New York Yankees in baseball.

Bobby, 4 foot 8 inch, 110 pounder, handled the 7½ pound 12-gauge shotgun like a veteran during his grueling 1½-hour match and shootoff by the top four finishers, who all downed 100 straight targets.

Doug Sanders Wins Western

DETROIT—(UPI)—Rookie pro Doug Sanders boasted his first major golf tournament victory today—the $35,000 Western Open.

The 24-year-old native Georgian fired a sizzling four-under-par 68 on the final round over Detroit's rain-soaked Red Run course yesterday to win the tourney with a 72-hole total of 275-13 under regulation.

Sanders, who had won less than $4,000 in 18 months on the pro circuit, pocketed top money of $5,000 for his triumph.

The former University of Florida star beat out by one stroke Dow Finsterwald of New Bedford Heights, O., who carded a 71 on the last round to grab second place worth $2,500.

Tied for third at 279 were Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N. Y., and Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C.

Tommy Jacobs — the 36-hole leader—finished sixth with a 230 aggregate.

Voters Await Dodger Park Issue In LA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The hottest issue here in Tuesday's California primary election is proposition B. That's B as in baseball.

The issue is: Shall the Dodgers get 300 weed-grown acres of city-owned land in Chavez Ravine in which to build a baseball stadium?

Proponents say the site, near the confluence of the metropolis' freeways and about a mile from the city hall, is ideal.

Feelings are high on both sides. A noisy crowd of several thousand welcomed the Dodgers' home from a 2½-week road trip Sunday night as though the National League cellar dwellers were world champions.

Two bands blared. Vendors sold Dodger pennants. Players were introduced as they stepped from the plane. Traffic jammed airport streets for a half hour.

Television cameras covered the arrival as part of a four-hour "Dodgerthon" on station KTTV in behalf of proposition B.

Movie, sports, night club and TV personalities appeared before studio cameras and urged a yes vote. Comedian Joe E. Brown was master of ceremonies.

Star of the show was cigar-puffing Walter O'Malley, Dodger president. Answering questions, he said:

The National League could require the Dodgers to move from Los Angeles if proposition B fails, "but we like it here too much."

The City Council voted 10-4 for the Chavez Ravine contract last fall. But a group led by Councilman John Holland got enough signatures on petitions to force the referendum.

Stonewall Cops W. Virginia Title

CHARLESTON (AP)—Stonewall Jackson, often a power in football, basketball and track, celebrated its first West Virginia high school baseball title today while cross-town Charleston high rested on West Virginia tennis laurels.

Stonewall's Generals rode an outburst of 20 hits and 11 Gary errors to a runaway 21-1 victory over the Coalridgers Saturday at Parkersburg in the title game of the eight-team state finals.

Charleston, meanwhile, won all of the final events — boys' singles and doubles and girls' singles — to roll up 13 points in state tennis play at Huntington. Nitro was second with nine points.

The new state singles champions are Fred Kellmeyer Jr. and Miss Nancy Butts, both of Charleston. Kellmeyer and Stephan Young, whom he defeated in the singles final, won the doubles crown for Charleston.

Loes Gets Little Sympathy Following Sabbath Blowup

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—Billy Loes, who has repeatedly expressed a desire to pitch for the powerful New York Yankees, may have outlived his usefulness with the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Paul Richards, who had almost pampered the eccentric right-hander for two years, lowered the boom yesterday with an indefinite suspension and a $100 fine after the latest of his temper tantrums.

The disciplinary action came after Loes was ejected from the game for pushing umpire Larry Napp, a former professional boxer, in a heated argument over a call at the plate.

To Appeal Suspension

In the dressing room after the game, Loes pointed to Richards' office and said he was fined and suspended for making "God in there look bad." He said he would appeal the suspension to Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick because he was being deprived of making a living.

There was little sympathy for the 28-year-old hurler from his teammates, however. Only one player felt Richards may have been a little harsh in view of the fact that anyone might make an error in judgment and then blow up in the heat of battle.

Most of the veterans felt Richards had gone the limit with Loes and had to take action. One said: "I've been around in this game a long time, and Richards goes as far with his players as anybody. He will even be fair with Loes when this thing is over."

Loes also faces possible disciplinary action by the American League. Umpire Napp said he would file a report to league headquarters which will say Loes pushed him "more than once."

Throws Ball To Ground

Loes erupted in the fifth inning when Napp called Washington's Ken Aspromonte safe at home in a rundown play as Loes tried to make the tag instead of throwing the ball to catcher Gus Triandos.

The pitcher threw the ball and his glove and hat to the ground while arguing violently. The ball rolled to the backstop, allowing another runner to score and putting still another runner on third base. Washington scored three runs and won the game 5-2.

"Loes knows what he's suspended for," Richards said when asked for an explanation. "It seems to me that throwing the ball away and deliberately taking us out of a ball game would be reason enough in itself as hard as it's been for us to win lately."

Baltimore obtained Loes in May, 1956, when Richards decided to gamble with the sore-armed pitcher. He was used sparingly that

Oriole Fans Begin To Sour On Loes

BALTIMORE (AP)—Even some Baltimore Oriole baseball fans are objecting to the temperamental actions of pitcher Billy Loes.

When the right-hander was ejected from yesterday's game, there was a chorus of boos for umpire Larry Napp. But some of the fans were directed to Loes as he walked toward the dugout.

Later a fan called the Baltimore Sun and said: "I've been backing Loes for a long time, apologizing to my friends for his actions. But this is it. I'm through with him."

Flag Tourney Set

The Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club will stage a flag tournament tomorrow, 10 a. m., at the club.

Hermanettes Lose Double

Cumberland's Old German Hermanettes lost their second and third games of the season yesterday when they dropped a softball doubleheader at Alliquippa, Pa. The scores were 7-4 and 5-3. The second game was halted after five innings by rain.

Sis Champ was the star of the Hermanettes. She clubbed a homer and single in the first game and pitched her team to victory in the nightcap.

Rose Bowers held the home team to two hits in the afterpiece but a two-run rally in the last of the fifth cinched the decision.

All of the Hermanettes' four safeties in the opener were singles, but three of their four in the second went for extra bases. Ducky Lease hit a triple while Bowers and Pat Metzger whacked doubles.

Barrelville Edges Sluggers To Take Over Pen-Mar Lead

Yesterday was a hitter's afternoon in the Pen-Mar Baseball League as 116 safeties were batted out in the four contests played to wind up a busy holiday weekend for the eight clubs.

Barrelville, beaten for the first time Saturday by Hyndman, 2-1, after a six-game win streak, grabbed the lead with a 13-12, 19-inning victory over Grantsville on the losers' diamond. The two clubs sprayed a total of 41 hits over the field in the slugfest.

Old Germans win again. Mt. Savage took its third win in as many days as the Old Germans whacked Hyndman, 13-5, while Zihlman won over Wellersburg, 16-1, and Salisbury defeated Flintstone, 16-5, at Salisbury. Barrelville had 22 hits and Grantsville 19 in their see-saw battle with the Bombers coming up with a run in the top of the tenth for the victory. Bobby Raines, who relieved Jesse Markley in the seventh, notched the triumph. Raines has won four and lost one.

Earl Gracie, third Grantsville hurler, was charged with the setback. The Sluggers almost tied the score in the bottom of the tenth on Junior Perry's long hit but he was cut down at the plate when he attempted to stretch a triple into a homer.

Ronnie Cagle slammed a homer and four singles in six trips for the winners, while Morris had four-for-five, Markley and John Horwath garnered three blows each. "Pooch" Lewis socked a double and single and Galen McGregor a pair of singles.

Ray Ralston paced the losers with a pair of homers and a single. Tucker Cain collected three doubles and a triple in five trips. Perry had a home run, triple and single, Jim Keister socked three singles and Don Wenger chipped in with a three-run homer.

Leroy Morris' single in the tenth sent Ronnie Cagle home with the run that broke the 11-11 deadlock. Cagle started the winning rally by obtaining his fifth hit of the game. He moved to second on Horwath's third hit and crossed the plate with the deciding mark on Morris' fourth safety of the afternoon.

Nine-Run Second. Mt. Savage scored nine runs in the second inning after spotting Hyndman four tallies in the opening frame and Ralph Dickel, veteran righthander, received credit for the win after hurling great relief ball for 8½ innings. He supplanted Ed Dickel in the first inning and scattered seven hits and yielded only one run the remainder of the route. Charley Kirchner, the first of four Hyndman twirlers, was tagged with the loss.

Dorell Kline sparked the 13-hit attack of the Old Germans with three doubles in five trips. Ronnie Lennox blasted a homer, George Miller rapped a double and single and Paul Thompson, Arnone and Kirk garnered two singles each. Gene Strat obtained two of Hyndman's 11 safeties.

Thirty-one hits were chalked up in the Zihlman-Wellersburg contest. Bill Haberlein with four singles led the 16-hit Zihlman assault. Barney Spearman banged a three-run homer, triple and single and Curt Johnson hammered a homer, two-bagger and single. For Wellersburg, Ronnie Neuberger slammed a 3-run homer and two singles. Van Parsons had a double and single and John Witt garnered two singles. Malloy went the route for Zihlman and yielded 15 hits. John Witt was the loser.

Three Salisbury pitchers limited Flintstone to six hits while the Somerset countians connected for a total of 14. Jim Robertson was the winner and Wes Lashbaugh the loser.

Oester Paces Salisbury. Gordon Oester was the "big gun" for Salisbury. He collected four hits in five times at bat, including a two-run homer and three singles, scored four runs

Heavy King's Boss Defies Fight Order

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cus D'Amato, manager of heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson, challenged the World Boxing Committee's fight-or-forfeit order today.

D'Amato threatened court action if the committee attempted to vacate Patterson's crown. At its final meeting in Paris yesterday, the committee ordered young Patterson to defend against a recognized challenger before Sept. 30 or forfeit the title.

The committee's four challengers are Eddie Machen of San Francisco; Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz.; Willie Pastrano of Miami Beach; and Roy Harris of Cut And Shout, Tex. "In case Patterson should refuse, the committee shall no longer recognize him as world champion," said the Paris committee president Julius Helfand. "And it would then examine what action to take in the application of this decision."

When a world title becomes vacant, an elimination tournament usually is ordered to produce a new champion.

Twenty-three-year-old Patterson hasn't defended in more than nine months — not since last Aug. 22 when he knocked out amateur Pete Rademacher in the sixth round. World Committee rules forbid more than a six-month lapse between defenses by any champion.

But an angry D'Amato declared, "The World Committee rules about a six-month defense and about defending against committee challengers seem to apply only to Patterson — not to other champions."

"If there's a law for Patterson, there should be a law for all."

Stengel Says He's In Love With Carey

By United Press International

Andy Carey of the Yankees enjoyed the kind of day all hitters dream about—a perfect one.

The Yankee third baseman silenced a lot of critics yesterday when he hammered out five hits in a 10-4 victory over the Red Sox at Boston. Included among his blows were a pair of homers and a double that drove in four runs.

For some time now, the 26-year-old Carey has been considered one of the more expendable members of the Yankees. Gil McDougald, Tony Kubek and Jerry Lumpe also can play third for the Yanks and Carey's inability to raise his average much over .250 during the last three seasons has always made him a logical man on the trading market.

Logical so far as others are concerned, but not Carey Stengel.

"They always got Carey up for trade," Stengel snaps. "Well, that's very nice of 'em but I'm still managing this club. You wanna know what I think of Carey? I love him. That's right. Put it in the paper just that way — Stengel loves Carey."

And performances such as the one Carey gave up at Fenway Park Sunday don't dampen Carey's affection for him one bit.

Murphy Again Tries To Gain Control Of Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Minority stockholder H. Gabriel Murphy, still bidding a fabulous $605-a share, has made another effort to increase his holdings in the Washington Senators.

Murphy, renewing his criticism of the baseball club's management, confirmed today that he has offered $605 for each of nearly 1,000 shares formerly owned by a sister-in-law of the late Clark Griffith.

Griffith, whose heirs control the American League team, was for many years head of the Senators until he died in 1955.

"My purpose is very simple," Murphy said. "It is to buy additional stock so there will be a change in the control of the management."

Murphy, a Washington insurance man and former treasurer of the club, now owns a little more than 40 per cent of the outstanding stock.

Several months ago he offered $1,375,770—at $605 each—for 2,274 shares in the estate of Griffith's widow.

Murphy Again Tries To Gain Control Of Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Minority stockholder H. Gabriel Murphy, still bidding a fabulous $605-a share, has made another effort to increase his holdings in the Washington Senators.

Murphy, renewing his criticism of the baseball club's management, confirmed today that he has offered $605 for each of nearly 1,000 shares formerly owned by a sister-in-law of the late Clark Griffith.

Griffith, whose heirs control the American League team, was for many years head of the Senators until he died in 1955.

"My purpose is very simple," Murphy said. "It is to buy additional stock so there will be a change in the control of the management."

Murphy, a Washington insurance man and former treasurer of the club, now owns a little more than 40 per cent of the outstanding stock.

Several months ago he offered $1,375,770—at $605 each—for 2,274 shares in the estate of Griffith's widow.

Hurt In Area
Car Mishap

BEDFORD—Two persons were injured and a third man escaped harm yesterday afternoon when an automobile crashed into a tree on Township Road near Camp Sunshine about five miles north of here.

Edmund Hull, 18, of 216 Oakland Avenue, Johnstown, Pa., was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital with possible chest and rib injuries, multiple contusions and lacerations of the right knee, right elbow and forehead. State Police identified him as the driver of the automobile.

Also hurt was Samuel K. Schultz, 524 Grove Avenue, Johnstown, who was treated at the hospital for bruise burns of the face, a fractured nose and multiple lacerations of the left shoulder. Police said he was a passenger in the vehicle.

Philip Custer, RD 1, Johnstown, escaped injury in an unusual manner when he ducked into a well in which he was working, to escape being hit by the car.

State Police said Custer has a cottage in the area and was cleaning the well, which he located just off the road. He told police he was standing with his head and shoulders out of the well when the automobile careened off the dirt road as it rounded a curve, and headed straight for the well.

Custer was able to duck into the well a split second before the car passed directly over it and crashed into a tree. Badly shaken by the experience, Custer said he could have been decapitated by the vehicle had he not ducked in time.

Police said the driver apparently lost control of the car as it rounded the curve and it veered off to the left, over the well and hit the tree.

No charges have been made pending completion of the investigation.

Bloodmobile Makes Appeal At PPG Plant

The Red Cross bloodmobile unit makes its June visit to the local Eagles Home today and at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant at North Branch tomorrow.

From New York to Florida, and from the East Coast to the Midwest, requests for blood have come in to the local Red Cross office—a County United Fund agency—to fill the needs of Allegheny County residents and their families who have run into trouble while traveling or who have gone away for treatments and operations of various kinds.

Requests come most frequently from hospitals all over Maryland,
Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Washington. Automobile accident victims, sufferers from anemia, patients in need of heart, brain and lung surgery — these are among the cases requiring blood.

Until now, the blood for such cases has been supplied without question, but failure to meet local blood quotas now requires that the amount of blood available for home use be protected, Red Cross officials point out.

All the blood needs of local hospitals will continue to be met, but under a new policy of the Johnstown Regional Blood Center, out-of-region requests will not be honored unless quotas are met, or unless the person requiring blood or some member of his immediate family has donated blood in his home chapter within the previous six months.

"Hardship cases" will be taken care of for families in which there is no eligible donor because of age or medical deferment by Red Cross within the previous six months.

"The easiest way to get around these restrictions," a Red Cross spokesman said, "is to make sure that quotas are met each month, or to make a deposit for your family which will insure full blood coverage even though only one pint is deposited."

SCHOOL, SINGING CHORES DOWN PAT — Singer Pat Boone looks at a book in a class-where he's studying for a degree in addition to his singing chores. The latter consist of his personal appearances, filming and the like.

Boone says that long before he found fame as a singer he wanted to teach. It's still his ambition to work with youngsters. "Maybe

Dear Abby - - -

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am not the kind of person who makes a habit of sticking my nose in my neighbor's business, but I hate to see anybody taken advantage of.
This poor elderly lady was sold a bill of goods and is seriously considering investing her life's savings in a very shaky deal. Her "financial adviser" tells her that her dead son is guiding the whole deal by communication with her through the Ouija board. If you believe that you can communicate with the dead by means of a game bought in a Toy Department, please ignore this letter.
Otherwise, please help this poor soul and state your opinion.

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: The
Ouija Board is spelling out
F-R-A-U-D. Tell your neighbor that the place to get sound financial advice is from her banker.
The Ouija Board operator is a faker and should be investigated.

DEAR ABBY: I am wondering if you could give me help with my problem. There is no question in my mind about whether or not parents should spank their children. "Spare the rod and spoil the child" is a very wise saying. I would like to know how old you think a child should be before his father quits spanking him? Thank you.

INQUIRING FATHER: That would depend on the BEHAVIOR of the child and the SIZE of the father.

Pat Boone Working For His Degree

By PAT BOONE
For Charles Mercer

NEW YORK (AP) — When you get a television show of your own,
as it happened to me this year, there's a question refrain that comes with it: "How's it doing?"
meaning, What's the rating?

In my case there was a second refrain that went with the first like a Siamese twin: "Why do you do it?" Meaning, Why with all the load of rehearsing and performing the weekly show, making recordings, personal appearances, filming and the rest, did you decide to continue at Columbia University until you got your degree?

What good will a college degree do you or your show? Or maybe it's just a publicity stunt?

You don't make the Dean's list by just showing up at class with a bright smile. Man, I just don't dig that college degree business.
What'll it do for you? Man, right now, you've got it made.

I've tried answering, explaining.
And sometimes I think I've made my point. But I'm not sure. So I just have to go on doing my days in the way that feels right for me and my family—a wife and four daughters.

I know what they mean when they say, "You've got it made."
But I don't believe I've got it made by things outside me—by name or fame or ratings or possessions or even a college degree.
Finally, you only "have it made"
by what you are, by what you have in you.

Long before I found I could make my way as a singer, I wanted to teach. Working with youngsters was my ambition when I started at North Texas State College. It still is. Maybe someday I'll be able to do it directly in the classroom. Right now, in every way I can — through the show, through talks with youth groups, through correspondence.

Doing this is a responsibility.
Just as being a father is a responsibility. Just as being a citizen.
To handle these responsibilities and to handle them maturely, I need to know as much as I can learn and keep on learning. College is one of the preparations I can make to meet this constant responsibility.

Fast Driving Woman
Gives Unusual Tale
BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) —
Highway Patrolman Bright Bell sighed heavily after barking Virginia Tyson, 23, Los Angeles, on a charge of reckless driving.

After leading him on a 20-mile chase at speeds up to 115 miles an hour, he said she told him:
"I'm on my way to San Francisco to testify in the sanity hearing of a friend."

Woman Cooked Alive
In Reducing Unit
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mrs. Ka-therina Keger, 83, was found dead Sunday in an electric reducing unit in her suburban West
Mifflin home.

She was last seen alive Thursday. The coroner's office said it had not been determined how long she had been dead but said she had been virtually cooked alive in the tent-like heating unit.
The body was found by friends.

Misbid, Misplay Average Out

By OSWALD JACOBY, Writer for NEA Service

A Milwaukee reader wants to know if I ever see a hand that is both misbid and misplayed. With that letter in mind I am dedicating this week's articles to the millions of bridge players who make ordinary misplays.

The hand should have played at three no-trump but after North made the mistake of responding two diamonds, instead of one spade, it was difficult indeed to keep out of five clubs.

South also made one very bad bid. His Blackwood four, no-trump, would have committed his side to a slam if North had held an ace. As it was, it just brought them to the five-club contract he should have bid in the first place.

West opened the deuce of spades and South saw that he was likely to be in trouble. There were two aces off the hand and

In addition, he had a shaky trump suit. Also, there was nothing much he could do about the whole thing, but East was there to help him out. A low spade was played from dummy and East put on the nine. South made his singleton king and had no trouble making his contract after that.

East felt that his partner should have opened his two spade, but East had really chucked the defense. East was looking at a sure trump trick. South had used the Blackwood convention and stopped short of a slam. Obviously, South missed two aces. Hence, East should simply have grabbed his ace of spades and led back a diamond.

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (U)—If sidewalk superintendents have any criticism about the demolition of an old Cheyenne church, they'll have to take it to the Man Upstairs.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, June 2, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Your own attitude will have an important bearing on most matters now. Do not wonder. You will make the grade today. You surely can if you work and believe you can. Artistic pursuits favored.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—You can count on appreciable headway in the unusual as well as routine now. A good Venus aspect encourages originality and progressiveness; also matters requiring finesse and delicacy in handling.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—More aspirations will come true if you work hard and without looking for reward. No easy day in either business or personal activities. Don't force issues and do be realistic.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Vibrations fair at the start and, as the day progresses, so do your chances of bettering results with improved endeavor. Very auspicious for familiar work. Incomplete business, essential.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Some mildly adverse indications make it advisable to take proper precautions before acting. If necessary, try new methods where they can benefit. A slow-but-sure program could well be followed.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Where improvements are needed, get busy! There may be some rough spots—especially in the early hours. But, with good management and a little extra effort, you can come through handsomely.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—A period for cautious planning and action. Day has intriguing possibilities, but be alert, careful. Make the best use of your skills and talents, but don't antagonize those in a position to help you.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Be thoughtful; there are some tricky spots in this day's chart. Be especially careful in signing papers.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—Curiousness, confronting you may test your ingenuity AND your sense of humor. You are usually at your best in an emergency; demonstrate that ability now.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—There are opportunities but YOUR eagerness and a desire to improve knowledge will be needed to capitalize on them. Home, family interests favored.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—Let nothing daunt you in your purpose to get full day's doings completed. You may have to try some new solution, or recall an old formula. Then act promptly, without misgivings.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—Excellent influences for sound action, consistent, well-founded, decisions and intellect. Develop bright ideas. Learn to concentrate better and stay with a plan or project until it is given time to prove its value. Cultivate soundly and judiciously, and a confidently happy outlook. These are important to your happiness.
